JAP OCCUPATION MAY LAST MANY YEARS

Meandering
Along the Main Stem
By WASH FAYETTE

With the return of gasoline (if strikers do not cut off the supply) during the next six or eight weeks a great many motorists from this community will enjoy outings, including picnics, at the various state parks in the hill regions within 75 miles of Washington C. H.

I have talked with some of the caretakers of the parks and find there has been a tremendous increase in the number of visitors at most of the parks since the return of unrationed gasoline.

I would suggest one of the most enjoyable trips, if you want to prepare a meal at one of the several ovens in the woods, enjoy picnics at the shelter house or rustic tables or include an interesting hike, is Fort Hill, just off route 41, two or three miles north of Sinking Springs. The park is reached by a side road leading west from route 41, less than two miles from the main road.

Those who wish to see the well preserved earthworks on top of Fort Hill, can do so by following the paths indicated. The earthworks, over 8,000 feet long, encircle the hilltop and in the enclosure is a moat where the moundbuilder Indians stored water for use in case of a siege. Many unusual trees, shrubs and flowers also grow in Fort Hill Park, and in the fall gorgeous colors adorn the forested hills.

It is less than 40 miles from here to the park. And then, Serpentine Mound park is not far distant from Fort Hill. Both may be readily made in a day.

Recently when the slate-colored first coat of paint was applied to the figure of Justice on top of the Court House, which is having its face lifted with paint on all woodwork and metal parts, many people believed that was to be the color of the famous figure forming the apex of the county building.

However a bright coat of aluminum paint has been applied, and Justice stands resplendent in the sunshine.

When the work is finished, the balances will be restored to the outstretched hand of Justice, and these will be covered with gold leaf, adding to the general attractiveness of the figure.

It is the first time that aluminum or silver paint has been applied to the figure. It has usually been painted white.

HONEYMOON HALTED
AS LAW CATCHES UP

Bridegroom Fooled Bride Until Cops Step In

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25—(AP)—Mrs. Thelma Moore, 43-year-old widowed grandmother, has returned to her Columbus, O., home to ponder yesterday's strange turn of events.

It all started (or ended) when police interrupted Mrs. Moore's four-day honeymoon yesterday to arrest her bridegroom whom she had married in nearby Newport, Ky., after a 30-minute courtship in Columbus.

Mrs. Moore then learned that the "such a nice man" she had wed was not "Earl F. Deaver" as represented on the marriage license application, but one Frank Schilling, 36, identified by Detective Chief Clem Merz as a parole violator and wanted also on several check charges.

FATHERS OF THREE TO GET OUT OF NAVY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—The Navy announced today any enlisted man with three or more children under 18 years of age will be released at his own request.

The move, effective immediately, marked a liberalization of policy governing so-called "hardship" cases which are handled outside the point discharge system.

The change will not affect the point system, which gives a flat 10 point credit for dependency regardless of number of dependents.

STRIKE, SPREAD PUTS BLOCKS TO PAY TO JOBLESS

Acheson Given Support in
Tiff With Senator; Tax Cuts
To Be Considered Soon

By MAX HALL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—With members voicing alarm at idleness in spreading strikes, the House Ways and Means committee today shelved all legislation proposing liberalization of unemployment benefits.

The committee, by a 14 to 10 vote, brushed aside President Truman's request for the legislation.

Rep. Knutson of Minnesota, ranking Ways and Means Republican, told newspapermen "the strike feature was the deciding factor" in the committee's action indefinitely postponing all further consideration of jobless pay expansion.

Knutson told newspapermen those supporting the resolution argued that, with thousands of workers on strike, it is impossible to tell what the unemployment situation is.

"We must wait until the strikers get back to work and the hundreds of thousands of jobs crying for workers have been filled," Knutson said.

President Truman had requested the legislation. The committee action was a major defeat for the chief executive.

Tax Cuts Considered
Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) announced the committee will begin tomorrow writing legislation to reduce wartime tax burdens.

Another measure endorsed by Mr. Truman met with opposition in the Senate. Seven members of the Banking committee submitted a minority report declaring the so-called "full employment" bill approved by the committee "would only lead to inflation followed by depression and unemployment."

Other big decisions faced Congress today. They included:

Jobs: The Senate was all set to open its momentous debate on the so-called "full employment bill," which its supporters say will give America a weapon to slay depressions.

Senators are sure to approve the bill in some form and send it to the House—but not without sharp debate over words and phrases.

Wages: A Senate committee opened hearings on a proposal to raise the minimum wage to 65 cents an hour. President Truman says the present minimum of 40 cents is "obsolete."

Republican Senator Aiken, of Vermont, and Democratic Senator Tamm, of Delaware, predicted Congress will make some increase. A House committee will start hearings October 15. The minimum wage applies to companies whose products or services cross state lines.

Acheson Wins Tiff
There were decisions to be made on military and diplomatic matters. One was made yesterday when the Senate approved Dean Acheson's appointment as undersecretary of state. The vote was 69 to 1. This was widely interpreted as being an indirect Senate O. K. for a "hard peace" policy toward Japan. Acheson has championed such a policy.

GI Loan Simplification
Bill Urged By Legion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—The American Legion has prepared legislation designed to make it easier for the returning veteran to swing a loan under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

The amendment will be handed to Congress either today or tomorrow.

Under it, says the Legion, the veteran could:

1. Get a certificate of eligibility from the Veterans' Administration.
2. Apply to any lending agency he chooses.
3. Have the lending agency decide if his loan is sound.
4. Wait until the loan is made before getting approval from the Veterans' Administration.

This, said the Legion in a statement, will allow away considerable red tape in loan-getting.

Now the Veterans' Administration must approve all loans before they are granted. And before it approves any business or farm loans it refers the applications to the RFC and Farm Security Administration, respectively, for an opinion.

"All this hocus-pocus is done away with in the amendment," said John Thomas Taylor, the Legion's director of legislation.

It was then Joan made her promise—to sing for the sergeant alone in Hollywood Bowl. (International)

Ohio Politics Stews With Speculation Over Lausche's Selection
For Burton's Successor—Sohngen on Inside Track

COLUMBUS, Sept. 25—(AP)—The capital was abuzz today with speculation as to who will be Gov. Frank J. Lausche's second choice for appointment to the U. S. Senate, succeeding Harold H. Burton, Cleveland Republican, who resigns September 30 to become a member of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The opinion was growing that the honor now would go to Robert M. Sohngen of Hamilton, the state liquor director.

Lausche announced yesterday he had offered the post to former Gov. James M. Cox of Dayton, but that the 75-year-old newspaper publisher "did not see his way clear to accept the responsibility."

Many political observers today were putting Sohngen ahead of James W. Huffman of Columbus, state director of commerce, former Rep. Robert T. Secrest of Caldwell, now an officer in the Navy, and former Lt. Gov. Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, present U. S. ambassador to Belgium—the others mentioned most frequently this week by political dopsters.

Lausche said he motored to Dayton yesterday to extend the offer to Cox.

He said it was made "because of the fight that Governor Cox made in 1920 for world peace, because of his broad knowledge of national and international affairs and because of my conviction that he would serve the people of his state and his nation fearlessly and honestly."

"I regret very much that he did not see his way clear to accept the responsibility."

CHILlicothe WOMAN
HITCH-HIKE VICTIM

Assaulted and Forced Out of Car With Baby, She Says

GALLUP, N. M., Sept. 25—(AP)—Mrs. Robert Scott Carroll, 21, of Chillicothe, O., en route from Salt Lake City to Laredo, Tex., to join her soldier husband, related to state police a story of being assaulted and then forced out of her car with her 15-month-old baby in the Indian country 30 miles north of here.

State police said Mrs. Carroll yesterday related she had picked up a hitchhiker 100 miles south of Salt Lake City. The man attempted to assault her near Shiprock, N. M., and later forced her and her baby out of the car, after robbing her of $46 in cash and $70 in traveler's checks. She reached Gallup after catching a ride on a truck.

OHIO LEGION COMMANDER IS H. A. EATON OF ASHLAND

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25—(AP)—Harry A. Eaton of Ashland was elected Ohio department commander of the American Legion at its annual convention today. He succeeds Richard A. Lindemann of Delphos.

Don W. Schoeppe of Warren was chosen to succeed Eaton as vice commander.

OHIO'S THANKSGIVING
THIS YEAR ON NOV. 22

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25—(AP)—The fourth Thursday in November—November 22—will be proclaimed at Thanksgiving Day in Ohio, the governor's office said today.

Mell Underwood, Jr., secretary to the governor, said the White House had advised it would proclaim November 22, in accordance with federal law. And, he added, the Buckeye state will conform.

WOUNDED WAR VETERAN
HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

CANTON, O., Sept. 25—(AP)—A 23-year-old war veteran wounded in Holland has been charged with second-degree manslaughter in the auto death of a Pennsylvania Railroad crossing watchman in nearby Louisville nine days ago.

Corp. Robert E. Pitts, now on convalescent leave at his Louisville home, was free under bond today after arraignment on the manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Lloyd R. Wright, 69, who was knocked into the path of a fast passenger train by an automobile.

TOKYO, Sept. 25—(AP)—Allied occupation of Japan may last for many years—although with minimum forces participating—General MacArthur announced through an official spokesman today.

As he spoke, combat-clad veterans of Palau were dashing ashore at Aomori, expanding the ground-forces occupation to the northernmost tip of Honshu, and the Navy reported 48 warships carrying 20,000 service personnel home for discharge were due to leave Pearl Harbor today.

The statement was issued in denial of a report September 21 by Ted Dealey, president of the Dallas, Tex., Morning News. Dealey had written MacArthur told him the occupation could end in six months "if we are not too ruthless and cruel."

"What he (MacArthur) said," today's statement asserted, "was that occupation forces, under favorable conditions, could be reduced to minimum size in six months."

"He has stated that the occupation itself might last many years."

Domei May Fold Up
Stripped of special privileges by the Allied command, Domei News Agency probably will quit, its president, Inosuke Furuno, reported today. He said he had decided to recommend its dissolution to the next meeting of the board of directors. Noting that three major Tokyo dailies were considering formation of a new agency, he said "it would be impossible to make both ends meet" if Domei attempted to operate in competition.

Armed with a presidential directive making it clear that he is the highest authority in Japan, MacArthur clamped other controls ever more tightly on Japan's political and economic life.

Just Plain Criminals
Japanese war crimes prisoners are going to get a taste of real prison camp life.

Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, 8th Army commander, today announced he had selected Camp Moatoo, on a tiny Tokyo Bay island for their imprisonment. The camp housed American prisoners of war before the surrender.

"It was good enough for the Americans and I think it is good enough for these Japs. We are giving it a DDT (insecticide) treatment and that's all," Eichelberger asserted.

Eichelberger said he was undecided whether to include in the transfer cabinet members—such as war premier Hideki Tojo.

The general said Tojo was improving rapidly and he expects he will be ready for jail "very shortly." Shigenori Togo, Pearl Harbor foreign minister, however, is still very ill from heart trouble.

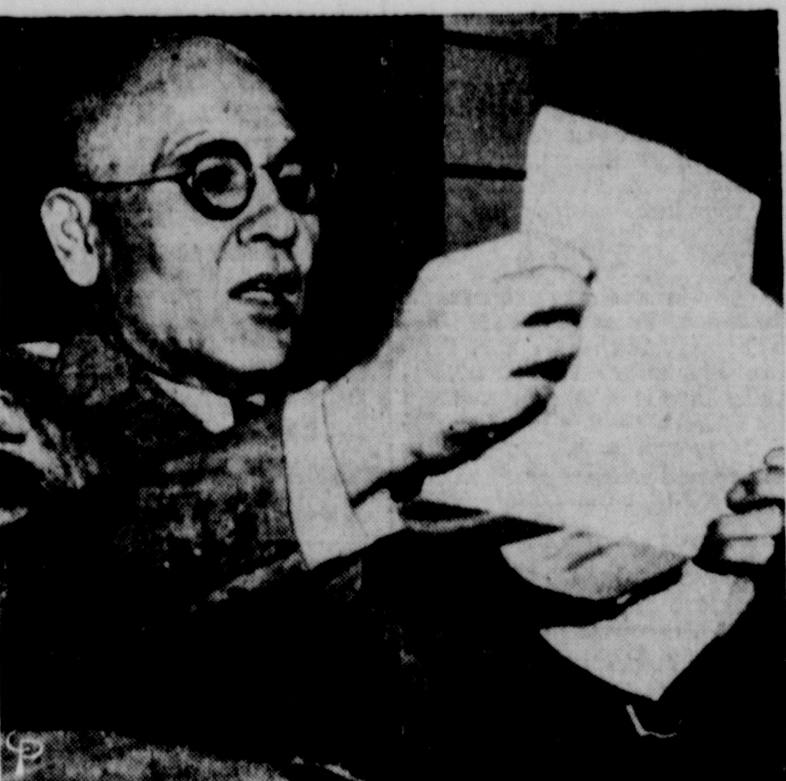

NO WAR PRODUCTION

Latest decrees forbade making arms, ammunition and aircraft; promised priorities necessary for production of food, clothing and houses; required careful reporting of virtually every large-scale financial transaction, unshackled the Japanese press; and spurred democratic education.

Emperor Hirohito, who well-informed Japanese say soon will call upon MacArthur in person, offered no answers to questions.

New York, Sept. 25—(AP)—The New York Times in a special dispatch from Tokyo, today quoted Emperor Hirohito as saying in an interview he had no intention of having his war rescript employed as former Premier Hideki Tojo used it when Japan launched her sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Hirohito told the Times' Tokyo correspondent, Frank L. Kluckhohn, he had expected Tojo to declare war against the United States in the usual, formal manner, if necessary.

Jobs, at Wages Below War
Scale, Go Begging as Full Employment Bill Offered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—This new New Deal craze for "full employment" gets more interesting as it develops. A Midwest senator has come back from his home town saying he has decided to vote against the whole business. The real trouble, he says, is too many people worked in the ordinance plant at $80 to $85 a week and will not go back to the $40 and $50 a week jobs now fully available, and crying to be filled.

Wonderingly, I checked my home town and found many workers from the torpedo plant did not want the hundreds of jobs daily offered in alluring advertisements saying "we will ride you to work!"

(Please Turn to Page Two)

The emperor stated, Kluckhohn reported, that he was opposed to war as an instrument of policy and pledged any social changes in Japan would be made by constitutional means. He said he would favor a constitutional monarchy like that of the British.

Reception Informal
Kluckhohn said his interview had been authorized by both the Emperor and Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Describing his reception by Hirohito, the correspondent wrote:

"Dressed in a black morning coat, striped trousers and white shirt, with a stiff wing collar and a black tie, Emperor Hirohito received me standing before an ordinary chair that served as his throne in a large, rather magnificent room on the third floor of the ministry of the imperial household within the imperial palace grounds. The main palace was burned by incendiary bombs and the emperor is living in a good sized cottage on the same grounds."

"My initial impression," the correspondent added, "was that he was about the average height of the Japanese, that he looked solemn and that he talked with emphasis. He looked straight into my face as he spoke, eyeing me through rimless spectacles. It was apparent that the war had been a strain on him, although he looked well, his hand shook slightly."

New Yorkers Forced To Climb
Stairs and Walk - - Unless

By the Associated Press
The government moved today to unsnarl the increasingly difficult problem of strikes and work stoppages along the nation's labor front.

The number of men and women off their jobs by strikes and forced shutdowns across the country touched around the 350,000 mark, the highest in months. Some 100,000 workers joined the army of idle over labor disputes within the last 24 hours as strife among labor-management gained headway.

Increased wages were the principal demands in the majority of the disputes.

As the government stepped in to attempt to effect a settlement of a spreading oil strike which already has idled 30,000 workers, there was no immediate indication other front-rank stoppages would be called off.

Labor Leader in Fight
Mounted policemen broke up a skirmish between AFL and CIO officials at Cleveland today as craft workers again passed through a CIO picket line at the Standard Oil Co.'s refinery.

The union clash occurred as CIO officials protested what they termed interference by AFL business agents with their picket line after the workers had entered the Sohio refinery.

Thomas A. Lenehan, secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, was in the center of the melee which consisted mainly of a pushing battle on both sides.

Only two of the state's refineries were operating as a result of the oil workers' strike and paralysis of Ohio's motor transportation loomed threateningly.

Some Encouragement
Prospects were more encouraging on other sectors of the labor front, however. Striking members of the Foremen's Association of America voted at 2 P. M. on a union executive board request that they return to work at the B. F. Goodrich Co. plants in Akron, ending a 22-day stoppage which has idled some 15,000 production workers.

In addition, 2,100 CIO-United Automobile Workers will return to their jobs at the Ohio Steel Foundry Co. in Lima as soon as possible. The men walked out September 12 in a dispute over four employees whom the UAW contended had been fired. The company asserted they walked off refusing new assignments.

Union and management representatives agreed the four would be suspended for four weeks.

Ohio Gasoline Low
Industry sources said the oil workers' strike was costing Ohio production of nearly four million gallons of gasoline daily and W. T. Holliday, president of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, warned:

"If the present situation continues, within a matter of days Ohio motorists will be without gasoline and there will be a breakdown of the entire civilian and industrial economy in this area."

The strike, which has closed refineries in Toledo, Lima, Findlay, Cleveland and Canton in addition by an AFL-Petroleum Drivers' Union demand for an immediate wage increase of "at least 30 percent" to members employed by major oil companies in Cleveland. Negotiations began immediately. The CIO members also were demanding.

Hong Kong Mansions Save Chinese
Luxurious Homes First Looted by Japs, Then by Coolies for Anything To Burn

By HAL BOYLE
HONG KONG—(AP)—The war has finished and now Britain is polishing up this crown jewel of the Orient, tarnished by the conflict.

Already British divers are at work clearing away the wreckage of Japanese ships sunk at the piers by Allied bombers. Hundreds of Chinese laborers are removing rubbish and the rusted remains of bomb-blasted buildings near the docks.

Hong Kong itself will soon be in working condition but it will be years before this gem colony regains its pre-war luster.

The Chinese settlement seems to have suffered much less than the areas in which the "foreign" colony lived.

Precision bombing by the Allies limited most aerial damage to Japanese shipping and repair structures along the water front.

Few bombs or shells ever landed in the congested Chinese quarter and the main buildings in Victoria City are almost undamaged. Commercial life is slowly reviving. The British fleet has brought

BRILLIANT HORSE SHOW ASSURED BY EARLY ENTRIES

WORLD TODAY

—By DEWITT MACKENZIE—

Emperor Hirohito's hold on his 2,600-year old throne is mighty tenuous, and while he is doing all he can to maintain his position, it won't be surprising to see him abdicate in due course, either of his own volition or because of pressure.

The report from usually well informed Japanese sources in Tokyo that the Mikado is preparing to present himself at the American embassy for an audience with Supreme Commander MacArthur is as significant as it is sensational. Such a thing is unprecedented, and if the imperial descendant of the sun goddess can thus walk among mortals and do homage to his conqueror without losing face with the Japanese people—then he is a wizard.

From time immemorial the public of Nippon has been taught that Mikado is a living God. They may not approach him, or look directly upon his face. Before he passes through the streets the police close the windows and pull the shades above the street level so that no one may look down upon him. The crowds along the line of procession bow low as the God-emperor passes, and only peek at him through their eyelashes.

Now, we are told, the Mikado is to stand before the real emperor of Japan—General MacArthur. We know that the general is ruling Nippon through the Imperial figure-head, but it's doubtful whether many of his humble and worshipful subjects realize it. So if and when this historic meeting takes place it's likely to produce a shocking disillusionment among his people.

There are, of course, a considerable number of Japanese anti-Monarchists who have been waiting and praying for an opportunity to execute a revolutionary coup and oust the emperor. From time to time they have dared raise their voices against him, but as often have been roughly dealt with by the police. Military-ridden Japan hasn't been a very healthful place for the growth of revolutionary ideas; or at least for their execution. It's given to wonder now, however, whether the anti-Monarchists may not get into action again. America's attitude towards political change is clearly defined for MacArthur in the statement on initial post-war policy in Japan, issued by the White House in Washington last Saturday. This says:

The policy is to use the existing form of government in Japan, not to support it. Changes in the form of government initiated by the Japanese people or government in the direction of modifying its feudal and authoritarian tendencies are to be permitted and favored. In the event that the effectuation of such changes involves the use of force by the Japanese people or government against persons opposed thereto, the Supreme commander should intervene only where necessary to insure the security of his forces and the attainment of all other objectives of the occupation."

Whether the Mikado elects to present himself before MacArthur, the fact remains that there has been considerable talk of his possible abdication. The Marquis Koichi Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal and one of the Emperor's close advisers, has told Associated Press correspondent Brines that abdication might be possible, although it isn't being officially considered now. Should Hirohito retire it probably would be in favor either of his young son or his

LIONS SPONSOR SUNDAY EVENT AT FAIRGROUND

Proceeds To Go Into Fund Used To Provide Glasses For Needy Children

With only the usual last minute details to be cleaned up, it was apparent today, committeemen said, that another one of the brilliant horse shows which brought such wide recognition to Washington C. H. in pre-war years was assured for next Sunday afternoon and evening at the Fairground here.

Sponsored by the Lions Club to raise money for the fund it has set up to buy glasses for needy children, 21 classes have been arranged. The afternoon show is to be made up of 11 classes and the evening show of ten.

Both shows are being developed from the long accepted types of horse show featuring the gaited horses under saddle and fine harness exhibitions.

While the entry list already is filling up with representatives of some of the outstanding stables in Ohio—and several other states the shows will not be without a distinctly local color. The class for hunters and jumpers is designed to add a spectacular note to the event.

The afternoon class for pleasure horses which was added to the program late, has proved more popular than members of the committee had dared hope, a spokesman said as he predicted it would be one of the highlights of the show. The class is for Fayette Countians over 18 years of age riding the Fayette County horses that are kept strictly for pleasure riding. And, he added, there are more of them than many realize.

The classes for the youngsters and their ponies also is expected to be one of the bright spots. Inquiries received by the committee are taken to indicate a wide and deep interest.

As for the rest of the show—those classes made up of the finished saddle and fine harness horses—a committee spokesman said there is every reason to feel certain that it will come up to those shows of pre-war years, when the night horse shows that featured the annual Fair gained such a wide reputation for excellence that the board heard from many who saw them as well as the exhibitors that they were the equal of the big state fair horse shows.

In building up the show, four members of the Horseman's Association here—Howard C. Allen, Val R. McCoy, J. Martin Cox and Alfred Hagler—are acting in an advisory capacity, lending to the Lions Club their vast experience and wide connections among breeders and exhibitors.

The Lions themselves are doing most of the work to save money for the glasses fund and to make sure there are no slip-ups. The Fair Board made all the facilities of the Fairground available to the club for the show without charge. Under any other conditions, the charge for the use of the barns, track and grandstand would have been $100-plus, it was said.

That a sizeable turnout, if not a capacity crowd, may be expected, committeemen said. Lions Clubs in a dozen cities, as far away as Columbus, Cincinnati, Dayton and Springfield had been cooperating in the promotion. Word also has been received from other Lions Clubs that they are expecting to make up parties to attend both afternoon and evening shows.

As usual with horse shows of this class, there are the social aspects. Parties for visitors, both before and after the shows, already are understood to be in the early stages of arrangement.

Because of the tone these shows always have had, people here have been making inquiries for box seats for more than a week. Plans for handling these reserved seats are to be worked out in a matter of hours. Committeemen admitted their chief worry now is having enough to meet the demand. The reserved box seats are to be 50 cents each in addition to the regular 75 cent general admission. There are six seats in each box, and it is known that a number of parties already have been made up both by people here and those expecting to come from out of town.

In the belief that many will want to remain on the grounds to look over the horses in their stalls and "talk horse" between the afternoon and evening shows, arrangements have been made with the Fayette Grange to serve lunch all day in the building at the east end of the grandstand. Plans for the Grange to serve breakfast to incoming exhibitors early Sunday morning also have been made.

The grandstand is to be cleared after the afternoon show, but it is not necessary to go as far as the main gate to get tickets for the evening show as there will be tickets available at the grandstand box office.

To simplify matters, general admission tickets are to be sold at the main gate at 75 cents each for each show. No charge is to be made for cars. Tickets purchased at the gate will be taken up at the grandstand entrance but, it was made plain, there is no additional charge there. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted free when accompanied by adults.

The afternoon show is to start at 2 P. M. and the evening show at 7:30 P. M.

HONG KONG MANSIONS SAVE CHINESE IN GETTING FUEL TO KEEP WARM

in hundreds of tons of rice, and is putting as many coolies to work as possible. Coolies suffered badly under the Japanese military masters, who provided them neither with food nor ways of earning food.

Hong Kong citizens say that because of the Allied blockade, no Japanese ship entered the harbor for the last six months before the surrender. It was a losing investment for Emperor Hirohito.

About the only signs of the late occupation is the flood of Japanese military yen, the rebuilt government house and the big Japanese war memorial at the top of the mountain overlooking the harbor. The memorial was built with the forced labor of foreign internees.

But something, perhaps final, has happened to the old way of life in Hong Kong as it was lived for decades by British, American, Indian and Portuguese business adventurers who found fortunes in tapping the race and Chinese markets here.

Coolie labor was cheap and with their new wealth, those trade harbors built fine, imposing homes on the "Peak" where for a century no saffron-skinned Oriental was allowed to dwell.

Privacy was insured by high stone walls topped with sharp glass fragments to discourage intruders. Life was easy and soft behind those walls. There were servants for every wish.

That pattern of life has been broken. Most of the mansions are now ruined shells. Only a few were destroyed by bombs or artillery.

After the occupants fled or were interned, the mansions were subjected to two waves of looters, first the Japanese conquerors and then the poverty-stricken Chinese.

The Japanese helped themselves to the rich furnishings and trampled what they didn't take.

After them by stealth crept the deluge of the Chinese poor. Fuel comes from the mainland, for Hong Kong has no timber nor coal, and the Japanese neglected to bring in any except for themselves.

So the coolies came to empty the homes and stripped them of every piece of metal and every piece of wood. They took picture frames to heat their homes and threw away the pictures.

They dug wood out of window frames and tore up the floors. They looted the homes cleaner of wood than a plague of termites.

Every article that could be sold or burned was removed. The "peak" homes are bare. Their owners are quartered temporarily in down-town hotels.

Some owners want to stay. Some want to leave Hong Kong forever. Some do not know where to turn. "It would break your heart," said an English woman in the Stanley Bay internment camp, "to see Hong Kong as it is and to remember it as it was."

Masonic Temple Scene of Potluck And Program

On Sunday evening the Past Matrons and Patrons Association met at the Masonic Temple for a potluck supper when a large variety of delicious food was arranged on one long table by Mrs. Delma Hilty, Mrs. Mary Phillips, and Mrs. Rella Silcott. Guests were seated at small tables centered with low table bouquets of fall flowers.

During the evening clever contests arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Giebelhouse and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Clark provided entertainment for the group, and the evening was closed with a general sing.

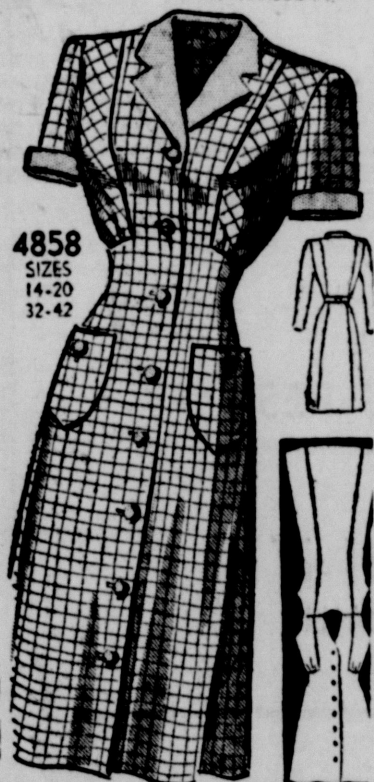

Later in the evening one of the table bouquets was taken to Mrs. Susanna Tobin, who was unable to attend. Mrs. Tobin is the only life member of the chapter here.

Out-of-town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Wolfe of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robison of Leesburg; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of St. Louis, Missouri.

Crusader Class Has Outdoor Party Monday

Members of the Crusaders Class North Street Church of Christ combined a wiener roast with the regular monthly business meeting when they motored to the New Holland Roadside Park for the affair on Monday evening.

Wieners roasted in the outdoor oven and the many appetizing and accessory viands provided a tasty meal for the group. Miss Marcia Highley, class president, conducted a business meeting following the roast and Mrs. Paul Thornhill read the treasurer's report. Mrs. Donald Hoskins was presented with a wedding gift from the class and Harry V. Flint, S. 2-c, home on leave from the naval training center, Sampson, New York, was also given a gift by the members. Letters from the Cleveland Christian Home and Betty Jane Pratt were read. Informal visiting brought the pleasurable party to an end.

A circus motif was used for the party, and favors of balloons, whirligigs and popcorn were given the youngsters. A fish pond and peanut hunt were two of the features of the day.

At the close of the afternoon the guests were seated at the dining room table for the serving of dainty refreshments, and each guest received an individual birthday cake, topped with one candle. The table was centered with a miniature circus in gay colors, and red clown nut cups marked each place.

By ALICE ALDEN

IT'S AN early season for fur hats, and why shouldn't it be now that a fur hat or a fur-trimmed model is light, charming and airy beautiful? Martin Schoen, whose skill with fur hats is so well known, offers this model, ideal for wear with an autumn suit or coat. The cloche brim of black Persian lamb is topped by a moderate crown of black felt and trimmed with a spray of oxidized berries for bright contrast.

Jr. D. A. R. To Serve Luncheon On October First

Her assisting hostess was Mrs. Leonard Korn. Presiding chairman during the business meeting, when several projects for the year were discussed, was Mrs. Richard Rankin. It was decided to change their meeting date from the third Tuesday of each month to the second Monday. Conflicting meeting dates of other organizations made this advisable.

Mrs. Rankin also announced that all members who can assist in serving the D.A.R. opening luncheon at the Country Club on Monday, October first, at one o'clock, should contact Mrs. Hugh Perrill. Jr. D.A.R. members have been asked to serve the luncheon.

After the business meeting was closed, several rounds of bridge were played. Prizes were presented to Mrs. Robert Hagler and Mrs. Hugh Perrill. Seated at the small tables, the two hostesses served a most tempting collation of viands, much to the enjoyment
